

This week in Nursery...

In family group we discussed why we celebrate Bonfire night. The children made firework pictures using brightly coloured paints and made models of rockets with the junk modelling materials. In maths we have been practising matching a number to a set of objects. The children have also been learning about the celebration of Diwali. In family group we learned about Rangoli and Mehndi patterns and the children drew and decorated some patterns of their own. It was lovely to see some parents at our 'learn through play' session on Thursday.

Next week in Nursery...

The colours of the week will be yellow and blue. We will be reading our 'Talk for Writing' book 'Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What do you see?'

Homework

Paint or draw a firework picture. You could use crayons, pens, paint or even glitter and glue!
